25X1 7. [ ] Delivered to Ed Braswell, Senate Armed Services Committee staff, the draft Committee report on the CIA Retirement Act amendments he had requested from Mr. Maury yesterday and he said it was exactly what he wanted. I brought his attention to the fiscal data section and told him that the amendments would initially result in a net increase of funds for the system due to the infusion of funds under the employer contributions provision. I gave him a written report on the status of the retirement ceiling as of 3 December, indicating only 22 unencumbered slots remain, and he agreed this fully demonstrated the urgency of our needs. I also left with him a short paper on ceiling for him to use as an aide-memoir in the executive session of the Committee. Braswell was hopeful that he might be able to see the Chairman later this afternoon, looking towards favorably reporting out our amendments early next week.
